Dear Drs. Modi:

Please accept my warm appreciation for your advancement of the Loyola Marymount University educational experience through the Bhagwan Mallinath Professorship of Jain Studies. The enclosed report details contributions of Christopher Patrick Miller, Ph.D., our first recipient of the distinguished professorship, during the 2019-2020 academic year. Please also find included an update on the financial status of your endowment.

Professor Miller dedicated his foundational year to enriching our students' whole-person education through broadening their understanding of Jain and Yogic principles and practice. In a period of unparalleled adversity, your investment in Professor Miller's cultivation of harmony, health and an appreciation for the environment through his teaching is all the more consequential as we prepare our artists, professionals and leaders to lead more ethical lives in the service of a greater good.

On behalf of LMU, thank you again for your partnership and commitment to our university.

Dear Drs. Modi,

I hope you, your community and loved ones are safe and healthy at this time. I wish to thank you for your support of the Bhagwan Mallinath Professor of Jain Studies, currently held by Christopher Patrick Miller, Ph.D. As you know, Professor Miller is a dedicated advocate and scholar of ecology, holistic health and interfaith studies, and I am honored to consider him a colleague. Your philanthropy is essential to his advocacy, scholarship and mission to promote peace at LMU and beyond.

In a period of challenges and disruption to education and society's well-being, our partnership enables a wider understanding of religions and cultures, helping a generation of young scholars to inspire new ways of improving lives. Our university is fortunate to count you among its ardent supporters of meaningful discovery, dialogue and community involvement in pursuit of a brighter world.

Dear Drs. Modi,

On behalf of everyone in the Bellarmine College of Liberal Arts at Loyola Marymount University, I wish to thank you for your support of the newly established Bhagwan Mallinath Professor of Jain Studies.

The professorship will continue LMU's tradition of seeking out scholars representing the highest standards of interdisciplinary research and collaborative learning. I look forward to the impact the professorship will bring in 2019-2020. Thank you for contributing to the rigor and reputation of our programs. The college and our students are stronger for your support.

Sincerely,

Robbin D. Crabtree, Ph.D.
